- Lot 185 to 233 – Grandma’s Teddy Bear Museum
- Lot 241 to 307 - The Teddy Bear Collection of Marion Sisley

- Lot 360 to 431 - Post-war Dolls
- Lot 432 to 485 - Dolls’ Houses and Chattels
- Lot 486 to 508 - The childhood collection of Ethel May de Wolf

These twenty-three lots relate to the early years of Ethel May Codrington, née De Wolf (1883-1972). Ethel was born in Boston, Mass., to a wealthy Anglo-American ship owning family. Her father’s family had emigrated to New England in the 1650s, but her grandfather James De Wolf moved to Liverpool in around 1850, marrying Ellen Bibby from a notable shipping family in 1849. Their son Charles (1859-1934) married Isabel Meredith, who was brought up in Boston, but her grandmother Wagstaff’s line came from Lancashire, and the Merediths from Lincolnshire. Ethel was subsequently brought up in the Liverpool and Birkenhead area and married Claude Codrington in 1917; their son and only child William died in 1941, serving with the Coldstream Guards in Egypt.

- Lot 509 to 642 - Traditional Toys
- Lot 643 to 905 - Antique and Vintage Dolls and Accessories
- Lot 643 to 656 - The childhood collection of Anne Parsons (née Messel), Countess of Rosse

These fourteen lots belonged to the vendor’s Grandmother Anne Messel (1902-1992). She was born in London and brought up at Nymans, now a National Trust property in Sussex, along with her brothers. The Messel family were originally from Germany (from Messel). Anne Messel married the 6th Earl of Rosse; when she married she brought her dolls with her to Birr Castle where they have remained ever since. Her son was Anthony Armstrong Jones, 1st Earl Snowdon and husband of Princess Margaret. There are an older group of dolls included here, which probably belonged to Anne’s mother, Mary Ann (Marion) Sambourne (1851-1914)
