

The Last Dance...

The last dance is fast approaching. It is with a heavy heart, the hammer will fall for the final time up in the Midlands as we present our final auction in Dudley.

It's been an amazing journey watching Dudley grow and achieve the endless success it has earned over the past 14 months. Auctioneer Manager, Jessica Forrester and her team should be immensely proud of their achievements and the growth delivered up in the West Midlands. Let's not forget our Midlands venture began in the peak of a global pandemic! SAS Dudley was gaining real presence up in the Midlands but sadly, as was announced at the start of the month, commercial challenges not being able to agree terms with the landlord has forced the music to stop. One final auction remains before the hammer goes down for the final time on lot 894, this is the last dance....

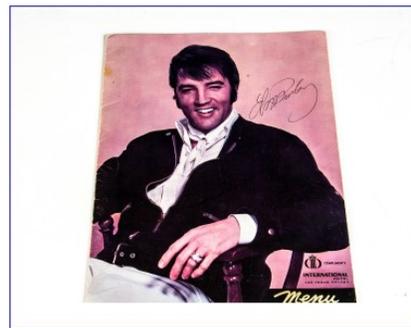

Thank you to all our buyers and vendors you've been amazing! Again SAS will very much remain present in the Midlands with regular valuations and home visits. Keep an eye on our website for further details.

Our April Antiques and collectables sale comprises a fabulously eclectic range of lots, including Chinese Porcelain items from the Nanking cargo sale, Baccarat paperweights, studio ceramics and glass, two collections of Chinese jades, a wonderful range of furniture from a Georgian Linen press to a cowhide chaise longue after Le Corbusier and much more.

Headlining our sale and picture section are two works by arguably Nigeria's most influential 20th century artists; Benedict Enwonwu M.B.E. (1917-1994) and Erhabor Emokpae (1934-1984), from a private collection. The vendors father acquired these works whilst working in Africa in the 1960's and 1970's. Enwonwu's most famous painting 'Tutu' was sold in London in 2018 realising a price over £1 million.

Other notable works in our picture sale are a watercolour study of game birds by Archibald Thorburn (British, 1860-1935), an oil still life by Henry Koehler (American b. 1927) and an etching c. 1910 after Pierre-Auguste Renoir (French, 1841-1919).
